

Stay Safe in the Kitchen

Sparky's Safety Jobs

Read the story and then answer the questions.

When Sparky was a puppy, he liked to help his mom bake. Eating dog biscuits made Sparky happy.

Sparky's mom gave him four important jobs to do in the kitchen. The first job was to use a biscuit cutter to cut bone shapes from the dough.

Sparky's other jobs were about safety. His second job was to watch the timer to make sure the biscuits didn't burn. His third job was to stay three feet away from the stove so that he didn't get hurt. His fourth job was to make sure that the biscuits were cool before eating them.

The best part of making biscuits was sharing them with his friends!

1. What made Sparky happy?

2. What was one of Sparky's safety jobs?

3. What did you learn from Sparky about cooking safety?

